BIO

GYTA / GYTAUTAS CILINSKAS

Hi, I'm Gytautas Cilinskas.

For my Italian friends, my name was a little difficult to pronounce, so they shortened it to Gyta. Over time, that became the name many of my international friends and colleagues started using as well.

I have not graduated from a professional acting school, and I have no interest in pretending that I already know the film world. But acting is one of those dreams that never really disappeared.

I was born on March 27 - World Theatre Day. After school, I seriously considered studying acting, but at the time I chose what seemed like the safer road. I moved from engineering and computer science into international business and law.

The stage, however, stayed close.

During my studies, I discovered theatre improvisation. I trained and performed, later created my own improvisation programme and travelled to schools around Lithuania with it. I also ran a private improv club and gradually began using improvisation in my professional life - with people, on stage and in situations where there simply is no script.

For more than twenty years, my work in international business has regularly placed me in front of audiences and cameras. I host events, have appeared in commercials and television, speak on camera and create my own content. I also created and hosted the podcast 'Tikras žmogus' - 'Real Human' - while building the Davines community in Lithuania and developing Davines Ferma with my team.

So the stage and the camera are not new to me. Screen acting still is. And that is exactly what makes it interesting.

CAMERA IS FAMILIAR.

SCREEN ACTING IS NEW.

NOT A RESTART. A RETURN.

At 43, I realised I no longer want to wonder what might have happened if I had chosen acting all those years ago. I simply want to find out what I can do with it now.

I am not arriving with desire alone. I bring life experience - business, leadership, fatherhood, relationships, humour, responsibility, failure, success, travel, nature and twenty years of observing people.

I am drawn to characters with contradictions: a strong man with a vulnerable side, a calm man with something to hide, an authority figure losing control, a father trying to reconnect with his children, or someone you cannot immediately decide whether to trust.

But most of all, I do not want to define all of my characters myself. I want a director to see something in me that I may not have discovered yet.

So this profile, these photographs and this video are not meant to prove that I am already an actor. They are an invitation to test me.

If you see someone in me who might add something to your story, I would be glad to meet you.

We only get one life.

So, what do we do now? It's time.
